NARRATIVE DESCRIPTION OF THE COMPANY'S BUSINESS

OVERVIEW

Glacier's core focus is to operate as an information & marketing solutions company pursuing growth in sectors where the provision of essential information & related services provides high customer utility & value. The Company employs a complementary media platform and product strategy to address both the risks that digital media represents to traditional print platforms and the opportunities digital media offers in Glacier's local community and business information markets. The strategy's premise is that customer utility and value should drive platform utilization and product design and functionality. Underpinning the complementary platform strategy are tactics designed to help Glacier staff manage and plan for the future. The related "go to market" strategy is being pursued through two operational areas: 1) content and marketing solutions (evolution of media business) and 2) data, analytics and intelligence.

To address the challenges facing some of the businesses, the Company is implementing a strategy to transform its business and focus efforts on a narrower spectrum of operating sectors in order to deploy resources and capital in areas where long-term growth opportunities can best be realized and Glacier has a strong competitive position.

Through its brands and operations, Glacier serves clients in three segments:

A variety of other growth opportunities exist in environmental risk & compliance information.

Financial Information

Fundata is the market leader of mutual fund listings information in Canada and is expanding through analytics and other products and areas. It provides Glacier with steady and growing cash flow and offsets some of the cyclical risks of natural resources cash flows.

Commodity Information

Agricultural

The Company has a strong national presence in the agriculture information sector. The Company's agriculture publications, websites, weather models and networks, databases, and trade shows are the leading sources of information for Canadian farmers, ranchers, agri-businesses, and those involved in the Canadian agriculture industry. The agriculture industry is experiencing rapid change and innovation with new technologies and methods such as precision farming, an open grain marketing system and other trends increasing the need for and value of information. The Company is well positioned to capitalize on these trends.

Energy and Mining

The energy sector is a truly global industry with strong long-term needs for information. The industry is slowly recovering from the worst cyclical downturn in its history. The Company has strong brands such as the Daily Oil Bulletin that has served the Canadian upstream oil and gas sector for decades. Given the pure scale of this sector, many information product growth opportunities exist on which the Company will be able to capitalize.

Like energy, mining is a global sector with strong long-term needs for information, in which Canada is a major player and Glacier has strong brands and market positions. The Company has been investing in its mining information products and is well positioned now that the long cyclical downturn is reversing.

Community Media

Community Media

The community media business is a mature industry but generates significant cash flow for the Company. The products continue to provide value for advertisers, and opportunities exist to leverage the local brands, marketing reach and customer relationships to generate new revenues. Efforts have been made to restructure community media assets to create greater synergy, direct value and operating simplicity for Glacier. In addition, the business is focused on expanding digital revenue opportunities by offering a number of products including retargeting services, website builds and Chinese digital marketing solutions.

INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

Management seeks to acquire businesses that either complement the Company's existing operations or are well positioned within the broader information communications sectors, which management believes offer considerable growth and profit potential.

Glacier pursues a long-term value-oriented investment philosophy whereby businesses are acquired with a view to holding and building such assets and maximizing cash flow growth and shareholder value.

As a result, the Company's ongoing cash flow will be used to repay debt, invest in existing operations, and fund acquisitions, amongst other things. The Company seeks to maintain a prudent debt to total capital levels in order to augment investment returns yet maintain acceptable capital risk levels. Such leverage ratios vary depending on the cash flow levels and margins of the acquired businesses.

The Company may raise additional capital as acquisition opportunities warrant.

ERIS, the Company's environmental risk information business, continues to generate strong growth in revenues, especially in the U.S. market. Concerted efforts to grow the Company's environmental property and financial information revenues through strategic operating investments is proving successful, and resulting in continued growth in a variety of areas.

EMPLOYEES

The environmental, property, and financial information group currently employs 119 people.

INTANGIBLE PROPERTIES

The ownership of intellectual property is of vital importance to all operations in this segment.

ERIS owns software and the copyright to all environmental risk reports produced. These reports are produced through the collection of environmental and other property related information from various levels of government and private sources North America wide.

STP owns the intellectual property and copyright for all of its U.S., Canadian and International EHS publications providing STP the worldwide exclusive rights to market and sell its own updated content covering 50 countries and jurisdictions. The range is also being made available in some of the countries' local languages.

REW.ca owns proprietary intellectual property.

Fundata has registered its trademarks with the applicable intellectual property offices.

COMPETITIVE CONDITIONS

STP is smaller than larger corporate publishers such as Thomson, Lexis-Nexis and Bloomberg; however, the entrepreneurial nature of its management has made the Company a competitive and respected publisher with a high level of brand awareness and customer loyalty in the niche market in which it operates.

ERIS, REW.ca, and Fundata compete with other companies in their respective information markets.

SEASONALITY

There is minimal seasonality in the environmental, property and financial information group's operations.

RESEARCH, DEVELOPMENT AND NEW PRODUCTS

Glacier's environmental, property and financial information group has various new products and services under development. Sometimes, these are enhancements to existing products; in other cases, they are brand new to their respective markets. New product development is often organic in nature in that it relies on existing technological competencies and is intended to extend product life cycles or expand audience potential. In other instances, products require a "bottom-up approach" in terms of new technologies and the associated skills required for product conception, development and launch. The company will either hire full-time individuals to bring skills in-house, or subcontract these skills.

Most often, the Company conducts its research with internal interdisciplinary teams drawn from various parts of the business to ensure sufficient expertise. When required, the Company will subcontract well-defined components of a project, most often in the software or database development areas.

Each new project has a different funding mechanism, typically depending on whether it can be operationally funded by existing product revenues. In terms of brand new initiatives, project proposals are required to produce a comprehensive business case to first validate the concept; subsequently, there is a requirement to produce well-defined return-on-investment cases before a project is sanctioned.

Typically, most research and development phases last between three and six months, depending on project complexity. Environmental, property and financial information's research, development and new products include:

- In spring 2019, REW.ca will expand their Property Pages coverage to the Okanagan, providing property information and sales history data to over 230 thousand more residential properties in British Columbia. REW.ca will also invest in expanding their listing search coverage and industry products to the rest of Canada;
- STP is increasing its range on a yearly basis to include additional countries, jurisdictions and local language in some countries. It has also moved into API (application program interface) option to allow seamless deliveries and updates in the Environmental and Safety Management Information Systems;
- STP is currently working with its authors to provide regulatory tracking to match the scope of the U.S. and International guides; and
- ERIS launched a number of online applications, interactive tools, reports, and systems to enhance the products offered to customers including ERIS Direct, ERIS Explorer, and Physical Setting Report.

In addition to a strong online presence, WP and FBC are circulated in print formats. By having staff in the field, each brand has developed long-term, effective sales strategies as well as an excellent base of credible, meaningful, relevant information contacts. These have led to new business opportunities and established the newspapers' reputation for commitment to the agricultural industry, and farm and ranch readers. GFM marketing is targeted to Canadian agricultural producers through a combination of print, digital, e-newsletter, radio, direct mail, trade show and social media channels.

JWN distributes and markets mainly to the upstream petroleum sector largely through digital products. JWN delivers information and insight through events and conferences, websites, e-newsletters, online research datasets and reports, directories and training. The Company has made a strong commitment to digital advertising in products such as the DOB, CanOils and some elements of its magazine and market intelligence products. Events and conferences focus on increasing sponsorships.

Evaluate distributes and markets its services through Evaluate Energy, an online service covering global oil and gas.

The Northern Miner Group empowers users by providing a trusted mining intelligence package that includes newspapers, magazines, conferences, research and online resources.

InfoMine operates online with three primary offerings: 1) E-Talent Solutions: our on-line HR platform which includes Careermine, the largest dedicated job board to the mining industry worldwide, as well as Edumine, the world's leading provider of training and education to the mining industry; 2) Mining Intelligence: data curators for over 30 years providing company and property data applications, cost estimating guides and software, and labour compensations reports; and 3) MINING.com: a leading digital publication covering the global mining sector.

EMPLOYEES

The commodity information group currently employs 292 people. Glacier has a collective agreement at the Western Producer which expires in August 2019.

INTANGIBLE PROPERTIES

The ownership of intellectual property is of vital importance to all operations in this segment.

GFM collects and maintains a database of demographic information for farmers across Canada.

FBC and JWN own software, mastheads and brand intellectual property.

InfoMine and WIN have registered their trademarks with the applicable intellectual property offices.

Evaluate owns proprietary intellectual property.

COMPETITIVE CONDITIONS

WP and FBC compete with organizations focused on agricultural news and information, in print and in digital space. AGD and GlobalAuctionGuide.com compete with online used equipment listing platforms. COFS and AIM compete with other outdoor agricultural trade shows. FEE competes with other indoor agricultural events. Premium services products compete with other agricultural marketing newsletters and agricultural weather products. WIN competes with other companies that provide weather-based solutions to businesses.

JWN and Evaluate compete with organizations focused on energy news and information.

The Northern Miner Group's news reporting on a bi-monthly format makes it a unique offering without an equivalent competitor; however, facing all print media outlets are online competitors in the form of mining commentary and reporting. The Northern Miner Group's magazine outlets face direct competition with other magazines reporting on Canadian mines. InfoMine competes with other online providers of mining news and information. In certain segments, such as online jobs and education, InfoMine is the recognized leader in the market. In other areas, such as mining news, companies and properties information, InfoMine faces stronger competitors.

SEASONALITY

Revenue and profit for Glacier's agricultural publications are seasonal and tied to the Canadian crop cycle. Advertising is concentrated in September, October and November for the seed industry and January, February and March for the crop protection industry, although customers also advertise throughout the remainder of the year. Listings revenue and profit occurs year round, although it is greater in the spring as farmers prepare for seeding and in the fall as they prepare for harvest and look to purchase equipment. Events revenue and profit is recognized annually in the month that the event takes place. Premium Services are annual subscription based products with revenue and profit being recognized each month.

The energy sector is a truly global industry with strong long-term needs for information. While the industry is currently stuck in a significant cyclical downturn, opportunities exist as operations continue and businesses look to reduce costs and increase efficiencies. The Company has strong brands such as the Daily Oil Bulletin that has served the Canadian oil patch for decades. Given the pure scale of this sector, many information product growth opportunities exist that the Company will be able to capitalize on as conditions improve.

Like energy, mining is recovering from a cyclical downturn. Mining is a global sector with strong long-term needs for information, in which Canada is a major player and Glacier has strong brands and market positions. The Company has been investing in its mining information products and is well positioned for as the recent cyclical downturn reverses.

RESEARCH, DEVELOPMENT AND NEW PRODUCTS

Glacier's commodity information group has various new products and services under development. New product development is often organic in nature in that it relies on existing technological competencies and is intended to extend product life cycles or expand audience potential. In other instances, products require new technologies and the associated skills required for product conception, development and launch. The company will either hire full-time to bring skills in-house, or subcontract these skills.

Most often, the Company conducts its research with internal interdisciplinary teams drawn from various parts of the business to ensure sufficient expertise. When required, the Company will subcontract well-defined components of a project, most often in the software or database development areas.

Each new project has a different funding mechanism, typically depending on whether it can be operationally funded by existing product revenues. In terms of brand new initiatives, project proposals are required to produce a comprehensive business case to first validate the concept; subsequently, there is a requirement to produce well-defined return-on-investment cases before a project is sanctioned.

Typically, most research and development phases last between three and six months, depending on project complexity. Commodity information's research, development and new products include:

- The mining group will launch TNM Maps and TNM Leaders. TNM Maps will see the coordination of Map content with Editorial specials. TMN Leaders will target the industry's best leaders and will have them speak on camera about their own career development;
- Recent launch of Mining Intelligence Evaluate - software used to help determine which mining projects will build and sustain a robust supply pipeline for commodities into the future;
- Completing a re-invent of Infomine's e-talent solutions business, integrating Edumine and Careermine into a unified offering for our customers that will engage more of the global mining talent pool and deliver a modernized learner and job seeker experience;
- Feedback from ongoing farmer-focused surveys and panels is used to constantly evolve content for existing products, identify areas for improvement and opportunities for new product development;
- Applied Research in new and emerging farming strategies is carried out at the AIM site. This research is used to provide content for our publications, and events; and
- MarketsFarm and WeatherFarm are premium subscription services providing specialized information, which were developed in 2018 and will launch in 2019.

COMMUNITY MEDIA GROUP

The Glacier Community Media Group publishes and prints community and daily newspapers, related publications, websites and digital offerings which are the primary source of information for the communities they serve.

The weekly and daily publications extend Glacier's reach into the local and regional diversified advertising and reader markets. In Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba these newspapers complement the Company's agriculture publications, which also have a strong presence in these markets.

The Community Media Group's publications include paid circulation products, controlled distribution products as well as total market coverage products. Each publication has an associated online property providing additional channels for the primary community information. The group is expanding digital offerings by leveraging the strong brands, community presence and local sales forces.

Digital

Glacier's Digital Group has strong roots in newspaper and magazines, extending to an online audience throughout Canada and beyond. The Digital Group's product offering includes: local websites, website design, social media management and brand videos. The Digital Group offers Search Engine Optimization ("SEO") and Search Engine Marketing ("SEM") which improves customer website visibility including web rank by optimizing page tags, onsite content, and link building opportunities. Other services offered include site retargeting, which is a cookie-based technology used to target display ads to a user that has either previously visited a website or somehow engaged with a customer's content. Programmatic Display allows customers to finely target qualified audiences based on their purchase intent and serve ad impressions only to a specific audience segment. The Digital Group also offers highly unique and powerful Chinese digital marketing services to a wide array of customers, which is experiencing strong growth with large market opportunity. The Digital Group has an award-winning portfolio configured for desktop, mobile and tablet viewing, optimized to captivate and engage target audiences. The Digital Group's product suite spans all demographics and media channels, delivering well over 20 million page views per month.

REVENUES

Revenues for the Community Media Group for the year ended December 31, 2018 were $110.1 million compared to $114.8 million in 2017.

The Community Media Group's operations continued to experience softness due to increased digital competition, as well as softer economic conditions in some of the markets in which the Company's operations are located. In particular, local markets in Saskatchewan, Alberta, and Northern B.C. have been significantly affected by the downturn in the energy and agriculture industries. National advertising both run of paper advertising and flyer distribution services, in particular, continues to be affected by the shift to digital advertising. Restructuring continues and has resulted in large financial and operating improvements.

A wide array of sales initiatives are being pursued to find new sources of community media revenue. In particular, digital media initiatives resulted in growth in digital community media revenues and new features and supplements initiatives contributed to local revenue performance. The wide range of new revenue initiatives and focus on higher-margin revenues resulted in incremental sales that helped to offset the weaker traditional print advertising.

A viable long-term digital community media business model exists where the Company can leverage its broad presence in local markets across Western Canada and offer local websites, web services and specialty digital products. The Company can augment its local content with its agriculture, energy and mining content, which is of interest to the people who live in the communities the Company serves in Western Canada.

METHODS OF DISTRIBUTION AND MARKETING

The Community Media Group distributes publications in both print and digital formats and provides products and event marketing services to local and niche markets. The Community Media Group historically has focused its time and training of sales representatives in the print space, but currently most training and business plans are focussed on the digital space. New and existing clients still use print; however, more are moving their marketing and sales efforts into the digital space at a significant rate. Consolidation of sales and editorial efforts and review of circulation schedules have allowed publications to be more efficient and effective. The Community Media Group's brands are strong among a large demographic population including families, seniors and non-profit and community-based organizations, including schools.

BIV distributes and markets through both print and digital products. BIV is the only business news in the British Columbia market delivered weekly. BIV focuses delivery through paid subscriptions and partnership databases.

EMPLOYEES

The Community Media Group has 1,340 employees. Glacier has collective agreements in some of the operations in British Columbia, Alberta, Ontario, and Quebec. These collective agreements expire at various times through to 2022.

INTANGIBLE PROPERTIES

The Community Media Group owns intangible properties in software, trademarks, copyrights, mastheads, and branding.

COMPETITIVE CONDITIONS

Many of the products in the Community Media Group face competition in their markets. In some markets, primarily within British Columbia, the competition is head-to-head with similar product offerings. In many of the Company's markets competition is indirect, with vertical products, digital products and radio. However, management at all of the Community Media Group publications is working diligently to produce quality products and offer first rate customer service to advertising clients and readers in order to offset the effects of the competition.

The Times Colonist newspaper is considered a major metropolitan daily newspaper and is the leading newspaper in Victoria, British Columbia. There are no direct competitors for major daily papers in that market; however, the paper does compete with major national newspaper publications and smaller community publications, and digital products.

With the exception of the Times Colonist, all of the markets in which the Community Media Group operates are small to mid-size markets. As such, these publications have a very strong positioning as they are the primary source of local information in those markets. As a result, the competitive conditions for the Community Media Group are very different to the challenges that exist for large metropolitan daily newspapers. The Company recognizes that digital media formats present a threat but also an opportunity due to the strength and positioning of its products. The Community Media Group is now providing much of its local community content to its readers through both print and online, tablet and smartphone platforms.

The competitive landscape that BIV operates within is limited primarily to a monthly business magazine, business coverage within a local daily and infrequent coverage of the market in the national dailies. Competition for advertising revenue is more significant from national dailies than it is for readers – while content may not be localized, the readership is. There is far more competition for online ad dollars as many sites and platforms reach local business people due to their size and scale. BIV is the only business news in the market delivered daily and weekly.

SEASONALITY

The Community Media Group's publishing business is subject to seasonal variations in revenue and profit. Advertising and subscription revenues tend to be stronger in the spring and late fall due to the patterns of advertising followed by both national and local retail advertisers.

RESEARCH, DEVELOPMENT AND NEW PRODUCTS

Although community media is a maturing industry, Glacier's culture is a dynamic and entrepreneurial one with a commitment to growth through research, development and new products. Further, Glacier has put an increased focus on digital products as the Company recognizes that digital media formats present an opportunity for growth.

Digital products

- The company is committed to ongoing product development and improvements to content management systems including website speed, ad delivery, functionality, user experience design and reduction in support requirements; and
- The company launched a number of local hubs last year in the following categories: home, health, restaurants and services. The hubs provide ongoing advertising results to customers and create recurring revenue for the company.

The Digital Group's research, development and new products required both contract work and in-house skill sets.

LITIGATION

An affiliated entity has been named as a co-defendant in a series of disputes, investigations and legal proceedings relating to transactions between Sun Times Media Group Inc. (formerly Hollinger International Inc.) ("Sun Times") and certain former officers and directors of Sun Times and its affiliates. The ultimate outcome of these proceedings to the affiliated entity is not determinable.

The Company and certain of its affiliates have also been named as defendants in certain legal actions incurred in the normal course of business, none of which management believes will have a material impact on the results of operations and financial position of the Company.

RISK FACTORS

Investors in securities of the Company should consider the following risk factors, in addition to the risks described in the section "Business Environment and Risks" of the Company's annual Management's Discussion & Analysis which is incorporated by reference into this Annual Information Form.

Dependence on Key Personnel

The Company relies on management to maintain its profitability and on the ability of its directors and officers to identify additional investments of merit. The loss of any of these personnel could have an adverse effect on the Company.

Competition

Each of the Company's publication businesses competes with a variety of other print publications and other forms of media including digital. Intensified competition in any of the markets in which Glacier competes could adversely affect the Company's ability to conduct its operations and publish its products in the future.

Growth Management

Expansion of the Company's operations means that overall quality, reliability and good management practices become more difficult to control. Increasing the size of the management team and departmentalizing the Company's operations increases the challenges associated with controlling costs and making effective use of resources.

Newly Acquired Businesses

While acquired businesses have been profitable in the past (except development stage businesses), there is no assurance that the businesses will continue to be profitable in the future, or that the integration of these businesses into the Company's overall operations will be successful.

Development stage business acquisitions are expected to realize future growth in revenues and realize a profit from its operations in the future, there is however no assurance that these profits will materialize and in the time frame contemplated by management.

Technological Changes

The long-term success of the Company's operations may be limited by its ability to adapt to significant advancements in both the equipment and the technology used in its operations, such as online publishing and digital media developments. The rapid pace of development in this industry has been evident over the last few years and is likely to continue into the future. The Company can provide no assurances that it will stay abreast of online publishing and digital media trends.

Future Capital Requirements and Uncertainty of Additional Funding

The Company may require funding to complete further acquisitions or for other purposes in the future. Such funding may be raised through additional public or private equity, debt financings or other sources and will, if obtained by way of subsequent equity financing, result in dilution to shareholders. There is no certainty that funding will be available as and when it may be required. This would adversely affect the Company's plans for expansion.

Existing Operations

While existing operations have been historically profitable, there is no assurance that they will continue to be profitable in the future.

In certain operations a portion of revenues are generated in U.S. dollars, British pounds and Australian dollars, and as such are subject to exchange rate fluctuations. The Company continues to closely monitor this exchange risk and when deemed appropriate will take the necessary action in order to mitigate it.

For JWN, Evaluate Energy, the Northern Miner Group and the Glacier Community Media Group, the advertising cycles are seasonal and/or cyclical.

The agricultural market is seasonal because advertising is concentrated in February, March and April, which is the pre-seeding period when advertisers seek to develop customer awareness for products. This market is cyclical because international grain markets tend to dominate economic cycles in agriculture, and climate fluctuations can play a crucial role in the fortunes of the agricultural sector.

Generally, the number of farm operations has been declining as farms become more specialized. This may result in further decreases in circulation levels for agricultural publications. However, this specialization has required the use of more sophisticated technology and other factors that have created increased information needs, which may strengthen the demand for agricultural publications.

The number of large Agribusiness customers has been decreasing due to mergers of notable Life Sciences companies. This may result in decreases in advertising levels for these large companies as they face less competition.

The Department of Canadian Heritage's Canada Periodical Fund's Aid to Publishers program provides postal subsidies to eligible Canadian publications, including Western Producer, FBC and the Community Media Group. While this program has been in place for decades, there is no guarantee that this subsidy will continue to be offered.

The Company's publications are affected by changes in the prices of purchased supplies, including newsprint. Newsprint pricing is subject to cyclical variations. It is difficult to predict the timing and degree of these variations which may impact the budgeting and planning for the Glacier publications.

Taxation

The Company is subject to the provisions of the Canadian Income Tax Act and to review by the Canada Revenue Agency ("CRA"). The Company files its annual tax compliance based on its interpretation of the Income Tax Act and CRA's guidance. There is no certainty that the returns and tax position of the Company will be accepted by CRA as filed. Any difference between the Company's tax filings and CRA's final assessment could impact the Company's results and financial position.

During 2014-2017 an affiliate of the Company ("the affiliate") received, from the Canada Revenue Agency ("CRA") and provincial tax authorities, tax notices of reassessments and assessments relating to the taxation years 2008-2017. The notices deny the application of non-capital losses, capital losses, scientific research and experimental development ("SR&ED") pool deductions and SR&ED tax credits claimed. As a result additional taxes payable including interest and penalties are approximately $57.1 million.

The affiliate has filed notices of objection with the CRA and provincial taxing authorities. In connection with filing the notices of objection, the affiliate is required to make a 50% deposit of the amounts claimed by the CRA and provincial authorities as assessed. The affiliate has paid substantially all of the required deposit of $23.5 million. No further amounts are due at this time for the 2008-2016 taxation years as the appeal process continues. These payments have been recorded as other assets, within non-current assets, as the Company and its affiliate expect to ultimately be successful in its objection.

The affiliate has filed a notice of objection with the CRA relating to its 2017 year. The affiliate will be required to make a $0.7 million deposit, 50% of amounts claimed by the CRA as assessed. The affiliate will pay the required deposit during 2019.

The Company, the affiliate and its counsel believe that the filing positions adopted by the affiliate in all years are appropriate and in accordance with the law. The affiliate intends to vigorously defend such positions.

If the affiliate is successful in defending its positions, the deposits made plus applicable interest will be refunded to the affiliate. There is no assurance that the affiliate's objections and appeals will be successful. If the CRA and provincial tax authorities are successful, the affiliate will be required to pay the remaining balance of taxes owing plus applicable interest, and will be required to write-off any remaining tax assets relating to reassessed amounts.

General Market Conditions

The Company's community media and business information groups generate revenue through the sale of advertising and subscriptions. As such, it is reliant upon general economic conditions and the spending plans of advertisers. A significant downturn in the national or regional economies may adversely affect revenues, as could significant changes in advertisers' promotional strategies.

Debt

During the year ended December 31, 2018, the Company amended its current banking agreement extending it to January 31, 2020. The facility bears interest at varying rates based on the prevailing bankers' acceptance rate plus an acceptance fee which ranges from 2.25% to 3.25% or the bank prime rate plus 1.25% to 2.25%, depending on Glacier's debt to earnings ratio. As part of the amended agreement, the Company entered into a term facility of $5.6 million which expires on January 31, 2020 and requires annual principal payments of $1.0 million, paid quarterly. The Company intends to renegotiate the debt facility before maturity. The maximum that can be drawn on the amended facility is dependent on the Company's debt to earnings ratio. All other terms were substantially the same as under the previously existing agreement.

This amended facility is secured by a general security agreement including fixed and floating charges over all of Glacier's and its subsidiaries' assets.

ANGLP entered into a separate senior term loan facility with a company that is related, due to common ownership, to Glacier. The outstanding balance at December 31, 2018 was $1.9 million. During the year ended December 31, 2018, the Company repaid its ANGLP non-recourse debt by $3.8 million. The amended facility requires monthly payments of $0.3 million plus interest and will be fully repaid at maturity on July 31, 2019.

The facilities bear interest at varying rates based on the prevailing bankers' acceptance rate plus an acceptance fee which ranges from 2.75% to 3.50% or the bank prime rate plus 1.38% to 2.13%, depending on ANGLP's debt to earnings ratio. The facilities are secured by a charge over the property of ANGLP.

Although the Company is current on all debt service payments and has adequate working capital, there is no assurance that future debt service payments will be met.

Subsequent to December 31, 2018, the Company amended its current banking agreement, extending it to February 28, 2021. The terms of the amendment were similar to those under the previously existing agreement.

Cybersecurity and Data Protection

An intrusion into our information systems could disrupt our operating activities, damage our reputation and result in legal actions. We mitigate these risks by ensuring that we maintain a quality and reliable technology environment for our internal and external customers, in particular by adjusting our security policy, deploying security measures and investing in our computer infrastructure.

Directors' and Officers' Involvement in Other Projects

The directors of the Company will not be devoting all of their time to the affairs of the Company, but will be devoting such time as required to effectively manage the Company. Some of the directors and officers of the Company are engaged and will continue to be engaged in the search for property or business prospects for themselves or on behalf of others, including other listed companies. Accordingly, conflicts of interest may arise from time to time. Any conflicts will be subject to the procedures and remedies under the CBCA.

EQUITY FINANCING

There were no equity financings or issuance of securities completed during the year ended December 31, 2018.
